Every 90 minutes in New Zealand a baby is born that requires specialist care.

The Neonatal Trust exists to support families going through the stress and anxiety of a neonatal journey, and to support the enhanced care of their precious premature and/or sick babies.

Our three core objectives are to:

1. Support neonatal families through the stress and anxiety of their journey
2. Fund neonatal research to increase understanding and enhance outcomes
3. Support the neonatal units and their staff so the babies receive the best care possible
